VOL. 84. NO. 97.

CIVIC COMMITTEE FAVORS PURCHASE OF ARENA BY CITY

Report, Made Public Today,
Does Not Mention Possible Price or Method of Financing.

OWNERS WILLING TO ACCEPT $2,000,000

Bond Issue Apparently Only
Method by Which Municipality Could Obtain the Money.

A special committee representing the Chamber of Commerce, Progress Council and Convention Bureau has reported in favor of purchase by the city of The Arena, 2700 Oakland avenue, as a community establishment for conventions, exhibitions and other events. The report does not mention a price for the purchase or suggest how the city could raise the money, but recommends that if the city can obtain a fair price the proposition be submitted to the people. Owners of The Arena, who say they built it for civic purposes, are willing to sell and have indicated that they would accept $2,000,000 for the huge structure, its annexes and the 14-acre site facing Forest Park. The report was made public this afternoon, following publication of the substance of the recommendations by the Post-Dispatch.

A bond issue apparently is the only means by which the city could provide the purchase money. Recently the Board of Estimate and Apportionment refused to initiate a $2,500,000 bond issue proposed by Mayor Miller, chiefly for carrying out undertakings started but not finished under the 1923 bond issue. Not Yet Ready for Mayor. Last spring, Harold M. Bixby, chairman of The Arena, Inc., a Chamber of Commerce, advocated use of some of the $5,000,000 Municipal Auditorium bond issue to pay for The Arena, but bills are pending now in the Board of Aldermen for apportionment from that account to the city for the purchase of the arena. The arena is located on the corner of Fourteenth and Market streets and, using the balance, to construct the front portion of the auditorium.

The special committee of the three civic organizations, which was appointed at Mayor Miller's suggestion, has submitted its report to the boards of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, Progress Council and Convention Bureau. These boards were asked to consider the report and send their recommendations to the committee, so that the committee can make a final report to the Mayor. The boards probably will act on the matter next week.

The committee approved in general the city administration's plan for proceeding immediately with the purchase of the front portion of the Municipal Auditorium. This unit will consist principally of a "music hall" with 3500 seats and two smaller halls with 750 seats each. This is covered by the pending appropriation, the bill having been drawn following the recent agreement between the city and the American Legion to have the auditorium more temporarily as a war memorial.

Against Big Auditorium. The committee was said, recommended that the front portion of the auditorium building, as originally planned by the city, including a hall of 12,000 seats and a large exhibit space, should not be constructed unless the purchase of The Arena was rejected. If The Arena is taken over by the city, the committee went on, the original auditorium plan should be modified, eliminating the big hall there and possibly providing an exhibit space.

The city has no funds available for building at the auditorium beyond the amount in the pending appropriation, but it is possible, going to conditions in the construction industry, that the bids for the front portion will be low enough to leave a margin for erection of the shell or exterior walls of the rear part. This would provide the exhibition area.

The Convention Bureau, which early this year advocated erection of the front portion of the auditorium and elimination of the rear portion, has continued to stand this idea.

GANDHI REFUSES TO DRESS UP; ISN'T RECEIVED BY POPE

Loinclothed Mahatma Calls on Mussolini as He Did on King George.

By the Associated Press.
ROME, Dec. 12.—Mahatma Gandhi missed an opportunity for an audience with Pope Pius today, apparently because his odd costume did not conform with the Vatican requirements of modesty.

Premier Mussolini received him, however, this evening after Gandhi had spent more than an hour visiting the Vatican without seeing the Pontiff.

Vatican authorities said the arrangements for an audience with the Pope had been canceled because his holiness had other pressing engagements. It was learned, however, that they had felt the Gandhi loincloth would be improper but that it would be too delicate a matter to ask the Indian to change his costume.

Gandhi, on the other hand, was represented as believing that since he had not altered his native costume for King George, his own sovereign, he could not consistently do so for the head of the Catholic church.

It was said that the Pope was very anxious to meet the Mahatma, but felt that he might lay himself open to criticism if he received the visitor in his usual scanty clothing.

CUT OFF BY SNOW, ARIZONA
MISSION PHONES FOR AID
Fuel Nearly Exhausted at Ganado
Hospital; Plows and Shovelers Clearing Road.

By the Associated Press.
TULUPE, N. M., Dec. 11.—Snow plows fought their way through drifts five feet deep today in an effort to open highways to the Presbyterian Indian Mission at Ganado, Ariz., which is snowbound with its fuel supply nearly exhausted.

With the last bit of coal used up at the Sage Memorial Indian Hospital, and two children's dormitories at the mission, Dr. C. G. Salter, head of the mission, telephoned to Defiance, Ariz., that the situation was becoming acute. All hands except nurses chopped wood today. Three hundred and fifty persons, including 150 Indian children, housed in the Presbyterian dormitories, live at Ganado.

A snow plow from Fort Defiance, 26 miles from Ganado, was sent to meet Indians who set out to shovel their way from Ganado. Fires in 14 buildings at the mission have been put out to conserve fuel for the hospital and children's dormitories.

JOINT CONFERENCE TO TAKE UP RAIL WAGE CUT ISSUE

Brotherhoods, at Chicago Meeting, Agree to Sessions With the Managements.

CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—Wage cuts and settlement of railway labor's dispute for relief for its unemployed await the call of a joint conference of officials of the railroads and their organized employees.

The meeting of brotherhoods adjourned last night without taking a stand for or against the suggested voluntary wage reductions of 10 per cent. The men offered, however, to meet with the managements and negotiate to a conclusion the issues of unemployment and wages.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Railroad presidents of important Eastern lines will meet in New York next Tuesday to consider further steps to be taken in the matter of wage reductions.

ARMY WINS FROM NAVY, 17 TO 7, BEFORE 77,000 PERSONS

HERB SCORES TWO TOUCHDOWNS FOR WEST POINT; STECKER IS OUTSTANDING STAR OF BATTLE

YANKEE STADIUM, NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Army unleashed a spectacular attack to gain a 17 to 7 victory over Navy in their battle for charity here this afternoon before a colorful crowd of 77,000 persons.

Travis Brown kicked a field goal for Army in the second period, while Herb went over for a touchdown to give West Point a 10-0 lead at the end of the first half. Navy worked a forward pass for a score in the third period, but Herb scored again for Army in the final quarter. Stecker was the outstanding ground gainer for the Army eleven.

Played under palmy weather conditions, with a "gate" estimated at $375,000, the game marked a return of old-time Army-Navy color and pageantry. The Cadets ripped down the goal posts in short order and serenaded the Middle stands with "taps."

It was Army's third successive victory.

The play by play account of the game follows:

FIRST PERIOD.

Navy won the toss, as Captains Tuttle and Price met in mid-field. The Sailors chose to receive the kickoff. Using the old-fashioned kicking tee, Harley Trice, Army guard, kicked off. Tschirgi took the ball on the sideline and was forced out on Navy's 22. Bullet Lou Kirm snatched the line for four yards on the first play and picked up five more off Army's left tackle.

Hurley barely missed first down, and Kirm punted out of bounds on Army's 37. Kilday and Stecker slashed at the line, picking five yards in two plays. Brown then punted to Moncure, Navy quarterback, who took the ball on his own 15 and was tackled after advancing only three yards.

Kirm broke across his right end to Navy's 32 for a gain of 17 yards and first down. Kirm then developed the gridiron, almost obscuring the play. Tschirgi and Kirm failed to gain and the latter punted. The ball was partially blocked by Price and Trice, Army, recovered on Navy's 45. Stecker raced wide and passed to Kilday, but the gain was barely a yard as Navy blanketed the play. Stecker hit the tackles twice for a total gain of five yards, then Kilday was stopped a foot short of first down and Navy gained the ball on its own 33-yard line. Kirm picked up two yards and Tschirgi then twisted seven off tackle. Hurley was stopped by Price, but Army was off side and Navy had first down on its own 45.

Navy took a five-yard penalty for offside and Tschirgi promptly got back four. Kirm then passed over center to Smith, left end, who was dragged down on Army's 48-yard line.

Kirm smashed at Army's left end for two yards, then kicked out of bounds on Army's 23. Gains of five yards by Carver and Stecker were offset by an offside penalty, and Brown punted to Moncure, who fumbled as he was tackled on Navy's 30. Suarez recovered on Navy's 32 for the Cadets.

Navy quarterback injured. Moncure, middle quarterback, was injured and replaced by Becht. Army was penalized five yards for offside. Kilday plunged four and Stecker one. Smith, Navy end, stopped Stecker before he could reach the line of scrimmage. Brown tried a goal line pass, as he faded back to the 45-yard line, but it was knocked down by Tschirgi. Navy again took the ball on its own 30-yard line.

The sailors had pulled themselves out of a hole by superb defensive work but Navy punted from the goal line flew out of bounds on Navy's 31-yard line.

Army, facing its first opportunity, was looted when Capt. Tuttle broke through to tackle Brown for an eight-yard loss. Stecker bucked a yard and passed to Carver for a gain of four. Brown then punted out of bounds on Navy's 9-yard line.

On the next play, Hurley picked up six yards. Kirm tried a long pass but it sailed over the goal line and was punted to Carver, who was downed on Army's 30-yard line as the first period ended. Score: NAVY 0, ARMY 0.

SECOND PERIOD.

Army tried to put some punch into its rushing attack at the start of the second period and Ray Stecker, in three plays, gained 14 yards for Army's initial first down. Stecker then passed to Brown for a gain of eight yards, and Kilday bucked off Navy's left side for first down on Navy's 43. Carver was halted after a yard gain and Brown's pass to Stecker was incomplete. Kilday bucked to the 23. On the next play, Stecker passed, Stecker raced to Navy's 27 for another first down.

Stecker slashed inside his right tackle for two yards. Kilday pounded through center for five and Stecker made it first down a few inches short of Navy's 15-yard line. Army was hitting with terrific power.

Kilday and Stecker picked up four yards, but the cadet fullback was stopped cold by Capt. Tuttle on his next plunge. Stecker fought hard in a twisting dash around Navy's left end, but was unable to make the distance and Navy recovered on downs on its seven-yard mark.

Brown Kicks Field Goal. Kirm stood on his goal line to punt and Carver made a five-yard return to Navy's 36-yard line. Kilday went out of bounds on the 35-yard. Stecker then faded back and passed to Carver, who took the ball over his shoulder and raced to Navy's 10-yard line where he was forced out of bounds. Stecker's next pass was grounded and the Army ace was then dropped for a two-yard loss by Reedy on a spinner. Stecker fought for a three-yard gain off tackle.

Brown then dropped back to Navy's 15-yard line and placed-kicked a field goal. Score: Navy 0, Army 3.

Jablonski, substituting for Trice in the Army line, kicked off to Hurley, who fumbled and then recovered well enough to return to Navy's 14-yard mark. Kirm punted on the first play to Carver, who was downed on Army's 40 by Smith. Navy was penalized 15 yards for roughness. Stecker's pass just missed King's finger tips with a clear field ahead. Kilday failed to gain, Carver made four over center. A short pass was good for only a yard, Stecker to Brown, and Brown booted out of bounds on Navy's 14-yard line.

Navy, still on the defensive, punted on first down and Carver returned from midfield to Navy's 43-yard line. Fields and MacWilliam replaced Stecker and Carver in the Army backfield. Herb substituted for Kilday. The continuation struck quickly but a good run by Fields was nullified as a Navy substitute was on the field. Kirm was hurt and given first aid.

Pass Good for 36-Yard Gain. Fields passed to Kopsack, who was downed by Tschirgi a yard from the Navy goal. The play was good for a gain of 36 yards. Herb had to go over the goal line twice to score, Army being offside on the first plunge. Herb also booted the extra point.

Score: NAVY 6, ARMY 10. Army made many substitutions and Herb kicked off to Tschirgi. The third quarter. Murray stayed to left end and Becht was at quarterback. Jablonski, still in for Trice in the Army line, kicked off to Tschirgi, who returned to Navy's 23-yard line. MacWilliam also received at quarterback for the Cadets.

Kirm, after a short gain around end, punted to Army's 35-yard mark, where the ball was downed. Reedy, Navy guard, was hurt and replaced by Thompson. Stecker raced around Navy's right end for seven yards, but fumbled on the next play and recovered for a three-yard loss.

Stecker failed by a foot to make first down. Brown's punt was blocked by James and recovered by Bryan for the Navy on Army's 31-yard line.

Campbell was tackled for a yard loss by Summerfelt and Kirm tried the third quarter. Murray stayed to left end and Becht was at quarterback. Jablonski, still in for Trice in the Army line, kicked off to Tschirgi, who returned to Navy's 23-yard line. MacWilliam also received at quarterback for the Cadets.

Kirm, after a short gain around end, punted to Army's 35-yard mark, where the ball was downed. Reedy, Navy guard, was hurt and replaced by Thompson. Stecker raced around Navy's right end for seven yards, but fumbled on the next play and recovered for a three-yard loss.

up when Kirm's pass was intercepted by MacWilliam, who returned to Army's 37-yard line.

Pass Gives Navy Touchdown.

An offside penalty checked Army's attempt to advance and Brown punted to Becht, who made a short return to Navy's 35. Kirm made a first down to the inch on the first line play and then dropped back to his 35-yard line to hurl a long pass to Tschirgi for a touchdown. Tschirgi took the ball on Army's 15-yard line and eluded Navy's 15-yard line and eluded Navy's 15-yard line and eluded Navy's 15-yard line.

Underwood kicked off for the Navy and Stecker galloped 30 yards before he was tackled down on Navy's 15-yard line. The Cadets used the wedged formation and came close to shaking Stecker into the clear.

Stecker then broke off tackle for first down on Navy's 45-yard line. Army's terrific charge was checked by a 15-yard penalty for holding and time was taken out to administer first aid to Tschirgi. The fleet Navy back was replaced by Samuel. Brown was stopped on an end run and Stecker tried a long pass which Becht knocked down. Brown's punt was off the line and went out of bounds on Navy's 33-yard line.

Kirm recovered his own fumble for a four-yard loss. He gained only a yard around his right end. The third period ended with Navy holding the ball on its own 30-yard line. Score: NAVY 7, ARMY 10.

FOURTH PERIOD. Kirm started the final period with a pass to Murray for 20 yards, planting the ball at mid-field. The Navy triple threat then was smothered on a sweep for a nine-yard loss. Kirm tossed a long pass on the run, but it was intercepted by MacWilliam, who returned to Army's 43-yard line.

A pass behind the line, Stecker to MacWilliam, gained three yards after Kilday had plunged one. Kilday then bucked center to Navy's 49-yard line, two yards short of first down. Brown punted to Becht, who was stopped on Navy's nine-yard line. Campbell plunged a yard. Herb replaced Kilday in the Army backfield. The referee sent for the Army trainer to wipe grease off Herb's bare legs. Kirm punted and MacWilliam was downed the moment he received on Navy's 35-yard line.

Army had gained 15 yards on the exchange. Stecker's long pass failed. Army was penalized five yards for offside but Stecker raced 15 yards off tackle for first down on Navy's 25. Stecker and Brown together gained four yards and Navy's offside gave the Cadets five yards more.

Herb bounced back from the center of the Navy line without gain, but Stecker made first down on a buck over right guard, on Navy's 13.

Herb Gained Over for Score. Stecker gained two, then on a reverse sweep to Navy's two-yard line, for a first down. Herb was stopped a yard from the goal and the next plunge felt a scant foot short of the goal. Stecker next was stopped at Navy's left tackle, with inches to go. On fourth down, Herb finally squeezed across for his second touchdown and Navy's gain was downed in vain. Herb placed-kicked the extra point. Score: Navy 7, Army 17.

Carver replaced MacWilliam and Lincoln went in for Captain Price in the Army lineup. Stecker was removed. Fields taking the place of the game's outstanding ground gainer. Herb kicked off to Kirm, who returned to Navy's 33-yard line.

Herb knocked down Kirm's long pass and another heave was blocked and Kirm, on a fake punt, grounded a third pass. As a result of the two penalties, Navy punted on its 13-yard line and Kirm punted to Carver, who made a free catch on Navy's 46-yard line.

Army, after a few short thrusts at the line, punted and Fields booted out of bounds on Navy's one-foot line. Kirm punted from the extremity of the end zone.

Bears Open Basketball Campaign in Game With Purdue Quintet Tonight

The Washington University basketball team will have a chance to prove to its followers that it is going to have a successful season, if the Bears make a creditable showing against Purdue in the opening game of the season for both schools tonight at the Washington Field House. The "B" squads of both universities meet in a preliminary game starting at 7:30. The varsity contest will get under way an hour later.

There is every opportunity for the Bears to get off on the right foot because Coach Don White has a veteran squad at his disposal. Two of them are excellent guards. They are Co-Capt. Herb Steideman and Don Whitehouse. A third capable defense man, Meyer Landwehr, will be used to replace Steideman or Whitehouse should they falter.

Floyd Kern, a Clayton boy, and Henry "Red" Graves, formerly of Soudan High, have been conducting a spirited, albeit friendly, duel for the forward position opposite Co-Capt. Henry "Buddy" Wise, and White will not know until game time which one he will start. Bob Mautz, another Soudan graduate, is the other reserve forward on the squad. Bob Mayack will start at center.

Purdue Has 'I'll-America Star. Exclusive of the importance of the game will be the opportunity to watch Johnny Wooden, Purdue floor guard and all-America selection, in action. But Wooden is not the only star or veteran on Ward Lambert's team. The entire first team were regulars last year and Harry Keller was picked for a forward position on the Big Ten all-star team.

Keller's running mate will be Ray Eddy, while Charles Stewart, not as famed as "Stretch" Murphy, but considered just as good, will jump center. The other guard for the Boilermakers will be Ralph Parmenter.

The Bears' "A" squad was excused from practice yesterday afternoon but the second-stringers were given a thorough workout. White expects them to do well against Purdue's "B" team and drilled them extensively on the plays similar to the ones the varsity will use.

With the exception of the center position, White is certain of the team that will take the floor. Arthur Bickel and Matt Marshall will be the forwards and either Harry Bleich or Nelson Howler the center. Bob Higgins and Karl Gustafson will be the guards.

The Purdue "B" team will consist of Dornte or Porter at one forward, Wheeler at the other, Blajok or Miner at center and Helm and Campbell at the guards.

Carver returned 19 yards to Navy's 15, but fumbled and Becht recovered for the Navy. The Navy tried the air twice without connecting. Kirm was again forced to punt from his goal line and the ball was downed on Navy's 34-yard line.

Johnson, sub for Brown, and Fields made first down on Navy's 21. Herb fumbled for a short loss and Fields was smeared on a sweep, losing four yards. Navy took the ball on downs on its own 23. Kirm's pass to Murray was ruled complete on Navy's 35 on Army interference. Pray, sub for Elliott at end, then jumped from a flock of Army tacklers to snag a pass on Army's 35-yard line.

Kirm tried another long pass without success. He then completed a short toss to Waybright, substituting for Brown, who reached Army's line as the game ended. Final score: Navy 7, Army 17.

ARKANSAS AGGIE QUINET TRIMS CONCORDIA FIVE

Concordia Seminary opened its basketball season at the Washington field house last night, dropping a 30-to-23 decision to the Arkansas Aggie quintet.

Ability to score on long shots enabled the visitors to gain the decision, the second in two years over the Preachers. About 1500 attended.

Jim Himes' accurate shooting gave the Aggies a 13-to-7 lead at the end of the first half. He was the high point getter of the game with 10, while Thornton counted eight. Etaler and Reuter, the guards, were the high point men for Concordia.

STANFORD, Cal., Dec. 12.—Upon the request of Northwestern University, the football game scheduled here Oct. 8, 1931, between Stanford and Northwestern has been canceled. VON ELM WINS; BURKE AND DIEGEL LOSE IN MATCH TOURNEY

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 12.—Shooting sub-par golf, George von Elm of Los Angeles, "business man golfer," today defeated Fred Morrison of Beverly Hills, 5 and 4, in the quarterfinals of the $7500 national match play open golf championship here.

Von Elm made the first nine in 32, three under par, to hold a 2 up lead at the turn. Von Elm won the tenth and eleventh holes, lost the twelfth and was 5 up at the thirteenth. The fourteenth was halved.

The national open champion, Billy Burke of Greenwich, Conn., pined the ranks of the defeated when he was eliminated, 20 up, by Willy Cox of Brooklyn in a spectacular battle.

The lead see-sawed back and fourth during the round. Burke took the lead by winning the fourth hole with a birdie 2, but Cox squared the match with a par 3 on the eighth to Burke's 4. Burke won the ninth with a par 4 to hold a one-up lead at the turn.

Cox evened up the count again at the eleventh hole when Burke shot into a trap to take a 6. The Brooklyn pro posted an eagle 3 on the thirteenth for a one-up lead and Burke made the match all square again with his birdie 3 on the fifteenth. Cox clinched the match with a par 4 and 3 on the sixteenth and seventeenth.

Romie Espinosa, obscure San Francisco professional, contributed his third surprising victory of the week when he defeated Leo Diegel of Arcata, Calif., defending champion, at the nineteenth hole. Espinosa, a member of the golfing family of that name, which also includes Al of Akron, O., and Abe of Chicago, fought a great uphill battle to turn apparent defeat into a brilliant victory.

The last of the quarter-finals also went beyond the regulation length when Willy Goggin of San Francisco defeated John Golden of Norton, Conn., at the 23rd green.

"PA" STRIBLING AND MAGNOLIA TO PROMOTE FIGHTS IN FLORIDA

By the Associated Press.
MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 12.—Pa Stribling and Lou Magnolia again have answered the siren call for winter sports promotion in the semi tropical state.

Between the two of them, they expect to keep three Miami arenas and Miami's winter visitors and fight fans fairly busy during the winter season.

The elder Stribling signed articles several days ago to promote weekly fights in Blacys arena here. In addition, Stribling is dickering for a Heeney-Risiko fight in the garden arena some time about the first of February and may put on two other fights there.

Magnolia will combine wrestling and fights at the Coral Gables Coliseum. He has taken the legal bit in his teeth to book Tony Canzoneri for a 10-round lightweight Florida boxing exhibition, prohibiting championship exhibitions. As a further venture into the forbidden championship field, Magnolia has booked Jim London, Greek claimant of the world's wrestling championship, with Tiny Roebuck, former Haskell Indian star for a January 22 engagement.

DENISON AND WABASH WITHDRAW FROM OHIO STATE ATHLETIC BODY

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 12.—Denison University, a charter member of the Buckeye Athletic Association and Wabash College, a probationary member, resigned from the association here last night, bringing to a head rumors of discontent prevalent for the last few months.

Both were of the opinion their scholastic requirements were too high and student bodies too small to successfully engage in association competition. Both will play the A. A. basketball schedules this season and their 1932 football schedules. Their resignations become effective at the end of next year's football schedule.

Although no definite action was taken, Depauw University indicated it would withdraw. The matter will be settled late this month when the president of Depauw returns to his duties.

The conference voted provisional membership to Marshall College of Huntington, W. Va., beginning at the start of the 1932-33 basketball schedule.

Margaret Glaser Signs.

The Bachelor Club, champions of the Greater St. Louis Girls' Basketball Association, will be strengthened for its second game next Wednesday night by the return of Margaret Glaser, star forward, to the lineup. Miss Glaser, while jumping for a tip-off in the Aquinas contest last week, fell and twisted her right knee. Treatments since, however, have repaired the injury and the former "most valuable player" of the league informed Coach Marty Mullen that she will report for practice at Battery A tomorrow in preparation for next Wednesday night's game.

Why Not a Filly?

ARGUMENTS to the effect that a filly is a poor risk in the Kentucky Derby betting do not stand up. Many are contending that Top Flight should not be made favorite in the 1932 Kentucky Derby because in 57 renewals of this event only one filly has ever won.

The contention is far from puncture proof. The entry list and the starting fields are the best answer. There are 10 colts and geldings for every filly entered. And many Kentucky Derbies have been run without a filly being in the field.

There is no real argument against a filly, with the possible exception that they do not always train well early in the spring. Fillies have courage and stamina as well as colts, and they have an advantage of five pounds in the weights, besides.

Despite the fact that the Derby will be run on the early date of May 7, Top Flight is the choice for the 1932 renewal. Her price, already inflated, is 15 to 1, while Tom Kearney, is 8 to 1 to win, play or pray.

You Never Can Tell.

WE note that E. R. Bradley, Kentucky's most prominent breeder of thoroughbreds, is out with one of his unique betting propositions. He offers to lay $1000 on even money that neither you nor anyone else can name a horse that will beat his youngster, Burgoon King, any time they go to the post together next year. That goes for any race, any distance, including the Derby, we take it.

Burgoon King, by the way, is by Bubbling Over, a Derby winner from the Bradley breeding farm. Burgoon King ran in good company this year and scored four or five victories.

There is, however, nothing in his performance to compare with Top Flight's achievements. He is a sluggish beginner and in several of his races this got him into trouble. But he closes strong, like a distance horse.

An even-money bet on Burgoon King against the pick of the juvenile field is putting it strongly, to say the least. Just in case Bradley may know something, we'll have to keep an eye on this nag.

Man of Queer Bet. BRADLEY likes to bet and to back his own horses. But one wager that he "keeps standing" at the annual Saratoga sales of yearlings is, $500 that you can't pick a youngster disposed of at the sale which will win a race as a two-year-old.

It sounds like a foolish bet. So it is, foolish for most of those who bet against Bradley. If 15 or 20 accept Bradley's bet, the probabilities are that only four or five will prove winners, and he pockets the difference.

That Black Gold Race.

BRADLEY's betting on one race which actually finished around after Black Gold had won the Derby in 1924, Bradley laid a wager on Harry Sinclair several "grand" that his entry, Beau Butler, would beat the Rancocas entry, Bracadele, which was coupled with another starter.

Bracadele set a rattling pace for the greater part of the race and held the pole. He was slowly picked up in the stretch and passed at the finish by Black Gold and Chilhowee. Bracadele was third on the rail and Altwood fourth, a nose distant.

Back owing to the similarity of colors, the placing judges mixed up Bracadele with Beau Butler, which was placed third instead of the Rancocas entry.

The mutuels paid off on Beau Butler, which actually finished about fifth, and Bracadele was placed out of the money in the chart.

An argument arose as to whether Bradley or Sinclair was entitled to the cash and Bradley, it was reported, insisted that the official payoff was the only criterion by which the bet could be settled.

The conversation that followed lasted on through the summer and for all we know is still going when the Sinclairs meet the Bradleys from time to time.

Green Bay Wins Pro League Title

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 12.—Professional football, insofar as the National Professional Football League is concerned, is ended for the season.

Joseph F. Carr, president of the league, announced here last night that Portsmouth and Green Bay will not play a post-season game, giving Green Bay the championship with 11 victories and two defeats. Portsmouth was close behind with 11 victories and three losses.

Although an additional post-season game between Portsmouth and Green Bay was scheduled, Carr explained, Green Bay exercised its right to cancel it because it was not on the official schedule.

SHANNON DENIES BEING OVER AGE WHILE PLAYING FOR ROOSEVELT

By Harold Tuthill

Beaumont, which has been plying on the championship of the City High School Basketball League for many years, may be admitted into the select set, if it is 25 victory over Cleveland tonight is a criterion of the team can maintain through season. The game, which is the season, was the first doubleheader at the St. Louis university gymnasium, Roosevelt being the second from Central.

The attendance was estimated at 500.

Being in the midst of the for championship honors is new thing for the North since they finished tied with Cleveland for the lead last year.

Beaumont lost last year's season. He added that there was no reason for him to misrepresent his age.

The allegation of Shannon's eligibility was supported by a statement alleged to have been made by principal E. F. Chapin of the Louisville Manual Training school to the effect that Shannon's enrollment card in that institution revealed that he was born Dec. 1910.

GLORIOUS SWAN PAYS $142.20 FOR $2 TAKING NEW ORLEANS RACE

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 12.—Long shot players again enjoyed a profitable afternoon at Jefferson Park as rank outsiders paraded through the Louisville Manual Training school to the effect that Shannon's enrollment card in that institution revealed that he was born Dec. 1910.

Glorious Swan, a two-year-old, with H. R. Riley in the saddle, opened the parade by accounting for the opener and paying $142.20 for $2. The third event went to Peace Lady, which paid $78.40 while winning the sixth race, odds of 16 to 1.

The Bloxi Pure, which featured the program, also went to a hot shot, H. C. Ragan's Draha winning the mile and one-sixteenth race and paying $24 for a $2 mutuel.

Several favorites, the favorite, was beaten a length for the major share of the purse, while lengths farther back trailed Wright's Aurica in third place.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—The stock market was boosted by short covering in the last few minutes of trading today, after sinking further into new low ground.

Losses of 1 to 2 points were cancelled or reduced in the final upturn, and several issues closed with gains of fractions to a point. The closing tone was steady. The market was fairly active, transfers approximating 1,500,000 shares for the two-hour session.

Further weakness of bonds, and fairly wide breaks in several preferred shares, had a depressing effect upon the general equity market, before the covering movement began.

Rails, on the whole, encountered considerable buying, as the attitude of the union leaders in selecting a committee to confer further with executives was regarded as distinctly conciliatory, although the prospects of an early agreement on wages was regarded as dim.

U. S. Steel to 42.
Selling of U. S. Steel was a major factor in the general slump in shares during the middle of the session. This issue dropped to 46, and closed at 44, off 1 1/2. Detroit, which regained a 1-point loss, and a 1-point loss into a gain.

The fall of the Japanese Cabinet, and the prospect of a new Government not regarded in Wall Street as seriously disturbing. The Japanese yen again broke widely but further declines in silk futures were moderate.

The effects of suspension of the free gold standard by Japan, leaving only France and the United States of the trading powers, still on a free gold basis, would be similar to the effects of England's inflation, and might help Japan's competing with Great Britain in temporary stimulus of inflation. A wide slump in silk prices might result in inventory losses to some American textile concerns.

Some possible effects upon Japan's consumption of American cotton, of which she is a large buyer, is somewhat problematic.

Japanese Yen Off.
While the Japanese yen dropped more than 4 cents, the British pound rose sharply, gaining about 7 cents. Most European currencies were higher, although there was no further advance in the French franc.

Net changes in most of the pivotal stocks were inconsequential. Losses of a point or two appeared in Allied Chemical, and in U. S. Industrial Alcohol, and Johns Manville, New York Central, Union Pacific, Eastman and Loew's each gained about a point.

The week-end trade and business surveys pointed to more active Christmas buying, but increasing activity in industry, in keeping with the year-end trend. Youngstown steel output is estimated for next week as somewhat lower.

President Hoover's appeal for support on his twelve-point program for economic reconstruction was featured by Secretary Mellon's statement on the debt, but the prominent features of the program were not mentioned. There were also further reports that Congress intended to investigate short selling.

Over-subscription of the December 15 offering of Treasury obligations by a margin of about 37 percent was considered a promising bank circles. It emphasizes the demand for highest grade short term securities and also the desire of large investors to maintain liquid positions.

FOREIGN MARKETS AT A GLANCE
LONDON, Dec. 12.—Trading on the Stock Exchange was featured by the movement in British funds, which, after a dull opening, rallied and closed firm on the marked advance in sterling, the dollar rate touching 33 3/4 to the pound. Japan bonds continued weak on the uncertain outlook.

PARIS, Dec. 12.—Yesterday's better tone was maintained. Depreciation of the franc caused irregularity, but the situation was more satisfactory at the close, though still irregular.

Japanese Yen Slumps.
NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—The Japanese yen today slipped to the lowest level since Japan's re-establishment of the gold standard in 1929. Expectations that a Government policy, believed to be committed to an embargo on gold exports, brought heavy selling of the Japanese yen fell below 41 cents, a drop of more than 7 cents.

Regular Christmas Dividend.
Directors of the North St. Louis Trust Co. have declared the regular Christmas dividend of $3. payable Dec. 24.

A new Serial Story

by Faith Baldwin

CHAPTER SEVENTEEN.

WHILE, stinging dust. Palms, listless at noontide. White roads and o-carts. Barefooted natives. Blind beggars; beggars covered with sores, beggars coughing, in the last stages of tuberculosis.

But fields of cane and sunsets of glory and soft-breasted mountains towering toward the sky, leaning toward one another in the attitude of static waves. And not far off, a calm and blue-green sea like a great feather dropped from a mammoth peacock's tail.

Three people. People wanting to get away to get "back home." People who couldn't. People caught here year after year. Little American babies, yellow, purple circles under their eyes, babies drinking coffee through a straw, as a new, strange, unclean, babies with in-ched hands and faces, due to dis-ting in the dirt, as babies must, but dirt which was heavy and dan-gerous with the carelessness of hu-man beings who had worked in it for ever and ever.

Malaria. The food was expensive and it was terrible "steaks" which boiled for hours before you could set your teeth in them. A few vegetables, and much fish, and what there was brought in carts, exposed to the scorching sun; no water or milk fit to drink without boiling; lots of canned food at exorbitant prices and of course, back-biting. The people each man-for-himself, the attitude of a lot of people in-oluntarily flung together for so-ety. Cabal and underground cut-throats. Speculations of salaries, income, graft, bribes. And always the talk about sugar; the effect the new tariff would have; the possibility of sugar stock fall-ing even lower; the possibility of a war cut.

And Harrison said: "You're the first white woman I wanted to talk to down here."

There were dances at the little club. And a trip or two in the car allotted Harrison. And one day Bill came home to find Harrison hold-ing Nevis' hand and telling her that his wife had never understood him and that was why she was going to divorce him, after a while.

There was something of a scene. Nevis thought, watching . . . this just couldn't have happened back home. But semi-tropic heat, and work in a more than tropic em-pire, and a man's temper, and Harrison was smooth and angry. And Harrison had a lot of influ-ence.

The invitations from the Czaars and their wives ceased. Bill was given a harder job. Harrison moved to another table and later disap-peared from the picture. But Bill was inclined to blame Nevis.

"I thought you wanted to come here to get away from all that sort of thing," he told her. He cast cer-ter, not literally, in her teeth. "I thought," said Bill bitterly, "that you wanted to be alone with me. To make something of our mar-riage. And then I catch you flirt-ing with the first white man who comes your way who appears de-cent."

Of course, they had malaria. Everyone had it. Why not? She wrote to Della: "Tell 'em back home that at any rate I haven't seen any snakes."

But she never complained. She said . . . her jaw set . . . I got Bill into this. I won't kick. She made such friends as were possible; the Jones family, one or two of the bachelors, always glad to come to her house and stretch their tired legs under a table and argue that, as they didn't know anything but sugar they might as well be here—or in Santo Domingo or some other place . . . as back home. She called on the women, stayed a failure of a luncheon or two and then gave it up as a bad job. "They're suspicious of me," she told Bill. "I don't know why." And Bill said gloomily: "It's rotten for you. Look here, I'm not get-ting anything out of this. They've got to put me to work where I'll learn something. Perhaps they'll afraid I will. I never in my life saw people so damned worried about jobs."

He wrote to Walter Mason. Shortly afterwards he was trans-ferred to the factory settlement, 40 miles away over the mountains.

It was a temporary transfer. They left their house, as it was, and went over to reside in the first house, a stone edifice up 60 long steps with a mountain at its back and looking down over the horizon curve of the bay, from which the sulphuric acid smell some-what, among its essential compo-nents, and which turned the ceilings in your pocket black.

They are very badly at something called a restaurant, which was run by the bachelors and guests. They spent, each of them, a couple of days in the hospital on the bay, undergoing the heroic and unpleas-ant treatment for acute malaria, and they died, no less, at the home of the chief executive, an elderly beautiful and magnificent man, packed with as many gardens and servants and comforts as they might have obtained back in West-ern.

And daytime Nevis read or sat on the veranda and looked over a lot. About herself. About Bill. About Harry Carter, who seemed very far away, just then. Everyone seemed, as close together as people could get, who depend upon each other for the friendship and mutual comprehension they are going to get out of the particular set of circumstances they call their life; yet not close enough to acknowl-

DAILY STORY FOR CHILDREN

By Mary Graham Bonner

Game of Fairyland

NOW everything was covered by the members of the Snowflake family. It made the whole countryside look quite different from the way it had before they had started playing.

The trees had a new appear-ance under their snowy covered branches and the ugliest and plainest of little bushes, and the barest of trees looked exquisitely lovely and fresh and beautiful with the snow giving them a new look.

A few of them were still scam-pering across the snowy ground, playing with the members of the Breeze family.

But most of them had settled down now and were quiet and still, and the air which had been so filled with them was now quite clear. In fact the sun was coming out. The Snowflakes had all taken their places.

Now Old King Snow had arrived, hand in hand with his sun. He was wearing his enormous snowy cape which was edged with shining, gleaming icicles and from his hat he wore a plume made from a long, curved icicle.

There were sparkling jewels flashing in the sunlight all over the snow, and John and Peggy knew that that had happened when the Old Snow King was feeling much pleased with all his Snowflake children and when he wanted to tell them that they had played most beautifully.

"You see," they said, "when we Snowflakes land everywhere and cover up everything in sight, we call that game the fairyland game, and it is our favorite of all games."

"Lots of people say it looks like fairyland when they see how every-thing looks after a snow storm," Peggy said.

BALDNESS-- Has Science Found a Cure for It . . .

Dr. Bengt Norman Bengtson of Chicago has just published in the Journal of the American Medical Association a report on his experi-ments with pituitary extract in the treatment of baldness.

Although Doctor Bengtson says that much exhaustive research remains to be done before he can determine to what extent his method is a specific cure, he has succeed-ed in growing hair on sixteen bald patients.

The interesting story of Doctor Bengtson's experi-ments and their results is told in the Jimmy has stunk all of his savings in Alaska Fisheries Common Stock in order to finance an operation on his mother.

YOUR FLOWERS WILL BE OUT IMMEDIATELY, MR. STONEHURST. BY THE WAY, I HEAR YOU'RE INTERESTED IN STOCKS—IS THAT TRUE?

MISS CINDERS, I THINK THAT SOMEONE SHOULD LOOK INTO MY HEART THEY'D FIND A STOCK TICKER!

AND DO YOU BIG MEN OF FINANCE WATCH THE STOCKS AT EVERY MINUTE TO SEE WHAT THEY'LL DO—AND THEN BUY OR SELL?

MISS CINDERS, WE DON'T WANT TO SEE WHAT THEY'LL DO—WE MAKE THEM DO IT!

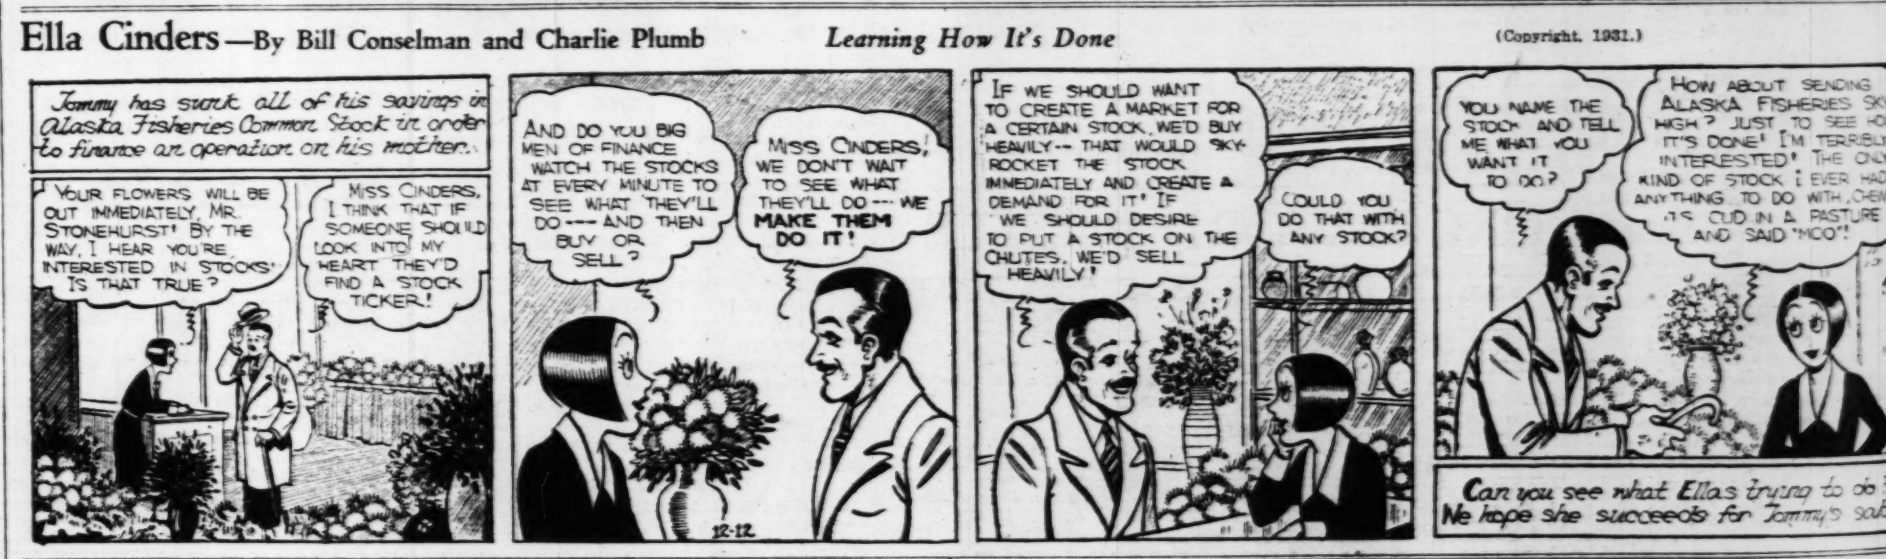

IF WE SHOULD WANT TO CREATE A MARKET FOR A CERTAIN STOCK, WE'D BUY HEAVILY—THAT WOULD 'KICK' THE STOCK MARKET AND CREATE A DEMAND FOR IT! IF WE SHOULD DESIRE TO PUT A STOCK ON THE OUTLET, WE'D SELL HEAVILY!

COULD YOU DO THAT WITH ANY STOCK?

YOU NAME THE STOCK AND TELL ME WHAT YOU WANT IT TO DO?

HOW ABOUT SENDING ALASKA FISHERIES SKY HIGH? JUST TO SEE HOW IT'S DONE! I'M TERRIBLY INTERESTED! THE ONLY KIND OF STOCK I EVER HAD ANYTHING TO DO WITH, CHESE—IT'S OLD IN A PASTURE AND SAID 'HOO'!

Can you see what Ella's trying to do? We hope she succeeds for Jimmy's sake!

George Anderson, president of the Service Car Drivers' Association of East St. Louis, died in a moving automobile in the block of Forrest avenue, East St. Louis last night, after he had shot through the body, apparently by one of two men who just out and ran away after the crashed into a telephone pole.

Anderson had been threatened frequently recently and was warned by another service car driver in the last two days that he "was on the death list." Some threats, he complained three days ago to Chief Deputy Sheriff Doyle of East St. Louis, came from a taxicab company with which gangsters are associated.

"You'll Get in Trouble," Doyle said, when he read Anderson's complaint, was "better quit picking up passengers by appointment or you'll be in trouble."

The only witness police were to find was Larry Miner, proprietor of a garage at 4213 F. boulevard, who heard the crash a collision at 7:30 p. m. about in front to discover Anderson's automobile stopped against a telephone pole.

As Miner watched, two men scrambled out of the car, down the street a short distance and disappeared into the weeds on a vacant lot. Miner attempted to arouse Anderson, he found slumped over the steering wheel, and falling, called him, who discovered the man been shot.

The bullet entered the left side of Anderson's chest, ranging upward, and lodged in his spine right wrist bore five scratches apparently made by fingernails. Police advanced the theory a passenger riding beside Anderson held his right hand while a man leaped over the back seat fired the fatal shot.

Police Theory in Killing
Inasmuch as neither the automobile sedan, nor the telephone, was seriously damaged, advanced the theory that Anderson was driving slowly when he killed. Miner asserted he heard shots, indicating that the traveled some distance before downed.

Weeping in their home at North 21st-street, East St. Louis, the widow of the slain Mrs. Anna Anderson, told a Dispatch reporter of recent received by her husband asserted that in addition to trouble with the taxicab company there was dissention in the car drivers' association.

"I was riding with him yesterday or the day before," Anderson said. "I can't remember which day it was—I'm not sure. We went out to the Washington Park. The husband always drove. We stopped at sixty-second street, Forrest avenue, he talked with either service car driver or driver asked him, 'Have you any insurance, George?'"

"George said no and then told him, 'Well, you'd better leave some and you'd better leave George, because you're on the list.'"

Mrs. Anderson said her husband threatened two weeks ago waiting at the East St. Louis School until school was dismissed and then picking up passengers in Washington Park. This said, came from the taxicab party. She also said that within the last two weeks a blizzard of service drivers had taken from their garages and wrecked. East St. Louis have made public no report of vandalism.
